

The Walnut Tree

One sunny afternoon I surprised a walnut tree.
It shed all its walnuts and gave them all to me.
The first five I used to decorate my house,
The next ten I used to feed a hungry mouse.
The fifteen after that seemed to be useful to weave into a mat,
The next two seemed to be useful to put into a stew,
The last one - I'm going to give it to you!
